DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 34,38 and 42 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103 (a) as being unpatentable over Layne (US 2001/0020181) in view of Ragheb et al (6,096,070)

Layne discloses in figure 3, a stent assembly having the limitations as recited in the above listed claims, including: a stent 30, a plurality of bands 52 circumferentially wrapped around the stent, where the plurality of bands include at least first and second band (see fig. 3), where the bands elastically can grip the stent. However, Layne is silent regarding the bands contain different therapeutic agents.

Ragheb teaches the stent has different therapeutic agents (see col. 3, lines 40-50 and col. 4, lines 42-65)

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the same time the invention was made to modify Layne by making the bands contain different therapeutic agents as taught by Ragheb in order to facilitate of different therapeutic agents that can be useful to the stent site or having of different degrees of flexibility to the stent site.

As to claims 35-36, Layne discloses the invention substantially as claimed. Layne is silent regarding the bands are made of different polymers and the bands have two layers.

Art Unit: 3734

Ragheb teaches the stent has different polymers and the bands have two layers (see col.7, lines 15-30, fig. 3).

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the same time the invention was made to modify Layne by making the bands contain different polymers and the bands have two layers as taught by Ragheb in order to facilitate of different therapies that can be useful to the stent site or having of different degrees of flexibility to the stent site.

Response to Arguments

2. Applicant's arguments filed 11/13/2006 have been considered but they are not persuasive. In response to Applicant's argument that there is no suggestion to combine the references, the examiner recognizes that obviousness can only be established by combining or modifying the teachings of the prior art to produce the claimed invention where there is some teaching, suggestion, or motivation to do so found either in the references themselves or in the knowledge generally available to one of ordinary skill in the art. See In re Fine, 837 F.2d 1071, 5 USPQ2d 1596 (Fed. Cir. 1988) and In re Jones, 958 F.2d 347, 21 USPQ2d 1941 (Fed. Cir. 1992). In this case, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the same time the invention was made to modify Layne by making the bands contain different polymers and the bands have two layers as taught by Ragheb in order to facilitate of different therapies that can be useful to the stent site or having of different degrees of flexibility to the stent site.

Conclusion

3. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
